JESS HALL

SHOT BY DOWELL

Shooting Occurred Saturday Afternoon—Hall Died Quickly. Dowell In Jail.

WAS HIS SON-IN-LAW

Hardsburg, Aug. 18. (Special)—At about four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon Matt Dowell shot his son-in-law, Jess Hall, who soon died from the effects of the shot. The shooting occurred in about 50 feet of Dowell's house with no one near except Dowell's son. As soon as the shot was fired Dowell left for Hardsburg, meeting near town Sheriff Milt Miller and Coroner Lee Bishop, who had started to the scene of the trouble. Dowell at once gave himself up and was brought to Hardsburg and placed in jail. His examining trial was set for Thursday of this week. Mr. Dowell's son gave the alarm and soon thereafter Wm. Howard a neighbor, found Hall with life extinct. Dowell and Hall lived close together, and on sinking creek within two miles of Clifton Mills. Hall had been married to Dowell's daughter for some years. His home before marriage was at Olaton in Ohio county.

Fall Campaign.

Webster, Ky., Aug. 15, 1908.—The political parties are planning for an active and vigorous campaign. Their success in a large measure depends on it. Why may we not see Sunday School workers plan and execute as active and aggressive campaign as they?

We desire to hold one or more rallies in every district in the county. Will the district officers take notice and get busy? We also want to make a thorough house to house visitation. I feel sure it will pay a large dividend if earnestly and thoroughly done. I trust the Superintendent of visitation and the Superintendent of Superintendents will have every thing in readiness.

We have done fairly well thus far this year, as those who attended our county convention will testify. The convention was good. Had good reports from all the districts, the attendance large and the interest fine. Every speaker on the program was interesting and made interesting and profitable talks. I take this opportunity of thanking the workers of the county for their hearty co-operation in all our plans. My association with them has been exceedingly pleasant and especially has this been true with the three Secretaries I have had as district and county president I can not recall a single unpleasant incident. While these seven years have brought responsibilities and quite a good deal of work, they have been happy years, happy in the thought that we are engaged in one of the greatest works committed to mortal man. It should have more of our attention. Will not some one write it up through our county papers.

I have written quite often but so far as I know no one has read what I have written. I write not because I think I can do it interestingly, but for your president I want to call your attention to the work and its importance.

We hope to make the final report for this year the best we have ever made. T. B. Henderson.

Enjoyable Outing.

The excursion given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church on the steamer Gazelle and large last Wednesday evening proved to be a most enjoyable affair. The boat was run as far down as Hawesville and "Cannelton, stopping at each place fifteen minutes.

A stringed band furnished music and the ladies served lunches and refreshments. The excursion was also a financial success, something over forty dollars being cleared.

What a misfortune it is that our educational advantages are not sufficiently good to keep our boys and girls among us until they have at least completed their High School. This yearly exodus of the young life from our community in order to obtain school advantages, is hurtful to town and county and state. Does any body care?

Irvington is beautifully and conveniently situated with splendid railroad facilities and is an excellent community morally and socially. Let's all unite to make it a point where christian culture can be obtained so that the home seekers will not pass us by. Nothing helps in upbuilding more than good churches and good schools. The better and more of these we have the more people come to us as residents. Increased population of course increases business. Merchants don't have time to sit on goods boxes and discuss politics in a thriving town which is building up substantially.

DEATH MOURNED BY MANY

Hardsburg, Aug. 18. (Special)—Micajah Arms, a prosperous farmer, who lived near Robbins' Schoolhouse, between Hardsburg and Sinking Creek, died very suddenly Sunday, falling from his chair in which he had expressed himself as being comfortably seated. In a short time he was dead. In his usual health the day before, he had served on the coroner's jury on Saturday over the remains of Jess Hall who had been shot a few hours before.

Mr. Arms was a half brother of "Uncle Henry" Macy whom he attended through much of the illness that cost "Uncle Henry" his life. He was aged about seventy, active, enterprising, relied upon by all who knew him, a benefactor to his neighborhood and a member of the Methodist church.

His remains were laid to rest in the Hensley burying ground on Monday afternoon. The surviving children are Clint, Nat, Micajah, Add, Austin, Mrs. Pete Maysey, Mrs. Rousseau Dowell, Mrs. Wm. Northard and Mrs. Mac Dowell.

While yet a young man he married Bettie Bruner, daughter of Jefferson Bruner, of Custer. Near her girlhood home the young couple established their new home, where, by thrift, economy and industry they accumulated well of this world's goods, and beautified the surroundings into one of the prettiest country places in the county.

The wife and one child, Almada, now Mrs. Bennett, survive the husband and father.

BIG DAY AT GUSTON

Members of Farmers Co-operative

Insurance Co. Meet.

Company Makes Good

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

Aug. 6/1908

The Planters Co-operative Insurance Company of Breckenridge and Meade counties met at Guston, Meade County, in yearly meeting on Aug. 6/1908 and elected J. J. Willet chairman of the meeting, the members being slow about getting there. Geo. W. Dodson, the secretary, gave a lengthy talk on the condition of Company, and showed how near that all home insurance companies came near being legislated out from doing any insurance business in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, there being a bill introduced in the last Senate in the interest of the Eastern Companies and unanimously passed the Senate, but when it got to the lower house was defeated. He urged the farmers to be very careful who they voted for for their next Senators and Representatives as there would be plenty of "bodie" to buy the next set of lawmakers by the Eastern companies, as they have done so in every state where Mutuals have been organized or only there but to elect the law makers. His talk was very plain on this point. He reported the proceedings of the state organization which was composed of delegates from 22 counties now doing business in the state and engaged under the laws of the state. They had a committee appointed to watch the next legislature and that said committee is to draft a bill in the interest of the Mutual Companies doing business in the State to come before the next State meeting and by the delegates there approved or modified ready to present to our lawmakers.

Next was the report of the Secretary which was as follows: At the last yearly meeting which was held at Ekron, Meade county, Aug. 1907, there was left in the hands of the Secretary $28.29 and the secretary had received 111 applications during the year and had received $223.47 application fees making $24.29 for which he had paid out as expenses for printing, postage, taking applications issuing policies and salaries of the office $11.40 over to the treasurer $234.07 leaving a balance of $10.26 in his hands. Next was the report of the treasurer to-wit: On hand at the last yearly meeting at Ekron, 1907 $68. Paid out for the company since last report for losses and incidental expenses of the office $11.40 over to the treasurer $234.07 leaving a balance of $10.26 in his hands. After dinner the committee reported as follows: We, your committee, have examined the reports and find them correct.—Dr. P. W. Foote, Chairman. Next was a committee of three appointed to select eleven directors to serve for the next year. N. Hicks, Charles Drury and N. B. Dowell reported the following names: Dr. P. W. Foote, W. S. ## THE SCHOOL BOARD

Getting Down to Business—Children Must Attend

THE LAW WILL BE ENFORCED

At a recent meeting of the School Board, it was decided that Monday, September 14th, be the date of opening school this year.

The Board unanimously voted to strictly enforce the Compulsory School Law. Section 4521 A of this law provides—"That every parent, guardian or other persons in the State of Kentucky, having the control of any child or children between the ages of seven and fourteen years, shall be required to send such child or children, annually at least eight weeks of which attendance shall be consecutive to some public or private day or night school for children." The penalty for failing to comply with this law is forfeiture to the school district by the parent, a sum not less than five nor more than twenty dollars for the first offense nor less than ten nor more than fifty dollars for the second and subsequent offenses.

The Board is confident that every patron in the district shall comply with this law, and hope they will not be required to prosecute any one for neglect to do that which they should do without the intervention of the law.

The Bank of Hardsburg & Trust Co. has been appointed by the judge of the County Court Administrator of the estate of W. R. Shaw deceased, of Louisville.

The train service on the Branch will be greatly improved for the Fair patrons. An early morning train will start from Cloverport or below and will reach here at an early hour and will return each afternoon after the day's exhibits are over. On the third day a special train will be run from Owensboro.

At the organization of the trustees of Educational Division No. 1 Saturday afternoon every trustee elected was present. Jesse Whitworth was elected Chairman and K. Harmon Secretary. A McMeador was elected trustee of Skillman's sub-district No. 1, and T. F. Triplett elected at Norton's sub-district No. 3. These two places held no election on August 1. Trustees Robt. Weatherford, Jesse Whitworth, K. Harmon and D. S. Miller and Ale McMeador drew a one year term. The other six will serve two years each. The second, third, fourth and fifth divisions will be organized this week.

From Leitchfield this stock will go to Elizabethtown, then come to the Hardsburg Fair. From here it will go to the Kentucky State Fair, after which the Tennessee State Fair will be made. Mr. Moorman's stock car was attended by Bill Kiper, his herdsman.

The names of Jesse Whitworth, J. V. StClair, Lee Wells, Matthews Miller and M. H. Beard have been sent to the State Election Board of Commissioners by the Democrats of Breckenridge county, and from this list one will be named to be one of the local Board of Election Commissioners. Taylor Beard's name is the only one remembered by the Republicans who also submitted their five, from which just a selection will be made.

All Present Abuses a Result of Their Acts, and They Are Impotent to Correct Them.

Republican Challenge Accepted. The distinguished statesman who received the Republican nomination for president said, in his notification of acceptance, "I have no doubt as to the cause in the campaign at hand is the fact that we represent the policies essential to the reform of known abuses and to the continuance of liberty and justice for all." He then affirmed, "I have determined, as our platform unequivocally declares, to maintain them and carry them on."

In the name of the Democratic party, I accept the challenge, and charge that the Republican platform is a threat to all the abuses which now exist in the federal government, and that it is impotent to accomplish the reforms which are imperatively needed.

It is my contention, that because the Republican platform unequivocally declares for the reforms that are necessary; on the contrary, I affirm that they are openly and notoriously disapproved of by the Democratic reformers, whether those reformers be Republicans or Democrats. So far did the Republican convention fall short of the duty that the Republican platform imposes, that I will call attention to several important particulars, thus rebuking the leaders of the party, upon whose co-operation he must rely for the enactment of reforms.

First, the Democratic speeches, discuss the leading questions at issue, I shall at this time confine myself to the paramount question, and to the further-reaching purpose of the platform.

Shall the People Rule?

Our platform declares that the over-

Why No Tariff Reform?

The president's close friends have been promising for several years that he would support a tariff reform. The tariff, we have had intimation that Mr. Taft was restive under the demands of the highly protected interests of the country, the manufacturers, who have for twenty-five years contributed to the Republican campaign fund, and who in return have been able to keep the tariff sufficiently high to prevent tariff reform. As the present campaign approached, both the president and Mr. Taft decided to make a statement to detect the date of revision after the election. But the pressure brought to bear by the protected interests has been so great that the president has decided to postpone the tariff reform before the election; and the reduction promised after the election is so hedged about with qualifications that the tariff reform, with accuracy the sum total of tariff reform to be expected in case of Republican success. If the president is elected, the Republican party will be so obligated by campaign con-

I shall not embarrass him by asking him upon what he bases his hope of success; it is certainly not on any encouragement he has received from Republican leaders. It is sufficient to say that if his hopes were realized—if, in spite of the adverse action of his convention, he should succeed in securing the enactment of the very law which he favors, it would give but partial relief. He has read the Democratic platform; not only his language, but his

EIGHT PAGES.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1908.

WELCOME TO THE BARBECUE.

Put out your flags and your bunting, put on your best bib and tucker, and go to the barbecue tomorrow. Make the stranger within your gates feel that he is welcome. Give him the glad hand and a soul-stirring shake. Bid him welcome to the best town and the best barbecue on earth.

We don't want to take any back steps in this town. Voting the saloon in will surely do it.

After the barbecue then get on the trail to the County Fair. Do you know that it is going to be one of the best County Fairs in the State.

"Cowheel" is all right on the local option question, and will vote right next Saturday. It would not surprise us if this precinct, No. 1, gave 50 majority for local option.

Our old friend and countyman, Owen W. Sanders, writes that there will be a party of fifty former Breckenridge county people, now living in Evansville, who will attend the barbecue here tomorrow. Good!

There is no finer trait of character than the neighborly trait. It don't take money or lands or great wealth to be neighborly. It just takes thoughtfulness, that's all. It matters not how poor you are you can be thoughtful. It costs so little.

The saloon is one of the greatest sin-making devices on earth. Everybody knows this. Nine-tenths of all the crimes committed in this State are traced to whiskey and the saloon. Why, good citizens, do you want these hell holes in our town?

The News has an excellent article from Mrs. Curtis, who has been giving us some thoughts that burn on the temperance question, which we will take pleasure in giving to our readers next week. We regret we did not have it in hand for this issue.

The saloon is no benefit to any community. The only men who get anything out of it are the men who sell the vile stuff. There is nothing advanced either in the industrial or the moral sphere by strong drink except the liquor traffic itself. Vote it out.

Give the young men a square deal. How can they have it with an open saloon before them? Take the saloon out of their path by voting it out of our town. It is not only a nuisance for our boys and girls, but for our men and women. Nothing good in it.

Saloons don't draw trade only for themselves. Many a man has come to this town when the saloons were in full blast, with money in his pocket to buy the necessities of life for his family. He struck the saloon first, spent all his money, went home drunk and without the things that would have made his wife and children comfortable and happy. Who was benefited? Only the saloon-keeper.

Mrs. Curtis certainly knows us men from the cradle up. She tells the truth about us. Isn't it about time for all men to stop their meanness and get to thinking more about our wives, our daughters, our sons and our homes. Men, are we standing on the firing line with our wives? Get in the front next Saturday and vote with and for our wives, the peace of our homes and the best interests of our town.

The Henderson Route is doing the handsome thing by our County Fair this year in the way of rates and special service. You will always find the railroads ready to co-operate with its patrons to give them the very best accommodations, and do all in their power to help along any worthy enterprise. Mr. M. H. Beard, secretary of the fair, is especially proud of the arrangements he has made with the road and more than thankful to L. J. Irwin, the General Manager.

The highest religious, educational, scientific, insurance and commercial authorities of the age have unequivocally condemned and denounced the liquor traffic as the greatest and most terrible curse of modern civilization, and the Supreme Court of the United States, recognizing this judgment of the world, has officially declared (Dec. 5, 1857,) that "We cannot ignore the fact, established by statistics accessible to everyone that the disorder, pauperism and crime prevalent in the country are in large measure directly traceable to this evil."

The late Col. Bob Ingersoll, in his great temperance oration, one of the greatest ever delivered, says of the liquor traffic: "I believe that from the time it issues from the coiled and poisonous worm in the distillery until it empties into the hell of death, dishonor and crime, it demoralizes everybody that touches it, from its source to where it ends. I do not believe anybody can contemplate the subject without becoming prejudiced against that liquor crime. All we have to do, gentlemen, is to think of the wrecks on either bank of the stream of death; of the suicides, of the insanity; of the poverty, of the ignorance, of the destitution; of the little children tugging at the faded and weary breasts of weeping and despairing wives, asking for bread; of the talented men of genius it has wrecked, the men struggling with imaginary serpents, produced by this devilish thing; and when you think of the jails, the almshouses, of the asylums, of the prisons, of the scaffolds upon either bank, I do not wonder that every thoughtful man is prejudiced against this stuff called alcohol."

CRACK ROAD MACHINE

When Best to Use the Split Log Drag.

FOLLOWING EACH HEAVY RAIN

Finest Work Done When the Soil is Moist, Not Sticky—Clay Highway Dragging Needs Special Attention. Economy of the Device.

The best results with the split log drag have been obtained by dragging roads once each day after each heavy rain. In some cases, however, one dragging every three or four weeks has been found sufficient to keep a road in good condition.

When the soil is moist but not sticky the drag does its best work, says a bulletin from the government office of public roads. As the soil in a field will be played wet, so the road will be played wet. It is particularly true in wet, if the roadway is full of holes or badly rutted, the drag should be used once when the ground is soft and sticky. This is particularly applicable before a cold spell in winter, when it is possible to so prepare the surface that it will freeze smooth.

The frequently conditions are met which may be overcome by a slight change in the manner of hitching. Shortening the chain tends to lift the sink and make the cutting slight, while a longer hitch causes the front to sink more deeply into the earth and act on the principle of a plow.

If a furrow of earth is to be moved, the doubletree should be attached close to the ditch end of the drag, and the driver should stand with one foot on the extreme forward end of the front sink.

Conditions are so varied in different localities, however, that it is quite impossible to lay down specific rules. Certain sections of road, however, require more attention than others because of steep grades, wet weather springs, soil conditions, exposure to sun and wind washed by driving in one condition, however, in which special attention should be given. Clay roads under persistent dragging frequently become too high in the center. This may be corrected by dragging the earth toward the center of the road twice and away from it once.

There is no question as to the economy of this roadmaking implement, either in first cost or in operation. In six counties in Kansas in 1906 the cost of maintaining ordinary earth roads, without the aid of the drag, averaged $42.50 a mile. These figures were furnished by Professor W. C. Hoard of the University of Kansas, who secured them from official records of the counties.

Some figures furnished by F. P. Sanborn and R. H. Ashton, general manager of the Chicago and North Western railroad, have revealed the wonders of this simple device. Mr. Sanborn said: "The least expense per mile per annum for split log dragging was $1.50, the greatest a little over $3 and the average expense per mile for five and a half miles a little over $3. I have lived along this road all my life, and never in forty years have I seen it free from mud and dust, despite the fact that during the season we have experienced the extremes of weather conditions."

The testimony of Mr. Ashton is equally strong. Learning that a township in Iowa had been making an investigation of the drag, he volunteered to have been experimenting with it for a year on twenty-eight miles of highway, he sent an agent to secure information. It was reported that, although the town board had paid the cost of making the drags and of hiring men to operate them, the total expense for one year averaged but $240 a mile, and the roads were reported to have been "like a race track" the greater portion of the year.

FOOD FOR CANNIBALS.

One of the Many Tragedies Enacted in Polynesia.

It is not so very long ago that cannibalism was rife throughout Polynesia, so that to be killed, cooked and eaten was the almost inevitable fate of sailors who chanced to be unfortunate as to be cast away on any of the outlying little visited islands.

Perhaps the most awful tragedy of the kind on record was that which happened in connection with the loss of the St. Paul, Captain Pennard, while on a voyage from Hongkong to Sydney. This "ne steamship" carried, besides a full crew, 327 passengers, mostly emigrants.

On Sept. 30, 1858, she was wrecked on the island of Rossel, but all got safely on shore. A little later the captain and eight of the crew left the island in search of assistance and were picked up by the Prince of Denmark schooner. Eventually the French steamer Styx was dispatched to the island and brought away one emigrant. The remaining 326 had been massacred and devoured by the natives.—Pearson's Weekly.

PAIN'S BIG MIMIC CITY

Pain's Big Pompeian Spectacle Each Night at the State Fair.

No scenic representation could be more realistic than the magnificent view which is spread out before the spectator in Pain's elaborate production "Last Days of Pompeii." The scenic city spreads out over an area of four acres of ground, and so perfect is the work of the painter in the perspective that one seems to be looking upon a real city and a landscape that stretches seemingly away for miles. Real massive buildings twenty to fifty feet high, loom up in the foreground, representing the palaces, temples, etc., of the picturesque ancient city, while huge triumphal arches adorn its streets. Towering above all these is the ever beautiful but treacherous Mt. Vesuvius. A force of over forty skilled scenic mechanics are necessary to place this scenic city in position each day, in spite of every time and labor saving device that can be provided.

Pompeii is to be destroyed again. Not the ancient city that nestled among the Italian hills at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius, but the big scenic city in the State's spectacle of "Last Days of Pompeii" that will be seen at the Kentucky State Fair. This mimic city represents with ideal accuracy the city that perished in the First century of the Christian era. The scenery used in this production covers an area of fully four acres of ground, but so deceptive is the perspective that it appears to spread out over many times that space. The view is said to be marvelously correct and his architecturally accurate, being like what the archeologists now suppose the ancient city was at the time it was destroyed. The whole effect under the glare of half a hundred arc lights and calciums is most beautiful. As one sits in the vast amphitheater and gazes on the scene before him he sees the tall Vesuvius with its head raised against the sky; below are the houses, temples, arches, etc., and to properly represent these latter many real structures twenty to forty feet in height are blended in with the "picture" in the background. The scene opens with the city in the morning and the sun is up for an hour the audience is entertained with a vivid production of the sports and feats of the hippodrome, exciting chariot races, sensational acrobatic and acrobatic feats, pretty ballets, imitations and gorgeously costumed processions, choruses, music, etc. The tragic dramatic episodes of the spectacle are shown in pantomime. The fete are interrupted by the terrific eruption of Vesuvius and the destruction of the city by the earthquake, which is a scorching and beyond description, and brings into action all the skill and ingenuity of Pain's artists. Following these stirring scenes there is presented a beautiful exhibition of fireworks, and those who have seen these pyrotechnics of the famous Pain have never realized the full meaning of the word before.

Railroads will make special rates from all its surrounding towns on the date of this exhibition. The most magnificent display of pyrotechnics ever witnessed in this section of the state is promised in connection with Pain's big spectacle. This display is, in fact, the crowning "feature" of the marvelous exhibition, and Pain has long enjoyed the reputation of "king of pyrotechnics" in both England and America; it is more than likely we shall behold something unusually fine in pyrotechnic novelties this occasion. Among the "specials" or "set pieces" shown will be a mammoth revolving fountain of fire; Alladin's Jeweled Palace, and the beautiful Pyrotechnic. There are only a few of the larger special pieces that will be shown. For the edification of the little folks there will be a large number of comic fireworks displays, such as the "Devil Among the Tailors," the huge walking elephant, the flying pigeons, the acrobatic monkey, the flying fish, etc.

TOBACCO. Tobacco will be a bigger feature than ever at the State Fair this year. The prizes offered are larger and the classes are more numerous. ### The Warning Sign.

A Boston physician tells a story of a youngster of his own that an over-strenuous vacation had put on the sick list. The father had an appropriate prescription filled and left the bottle with the child's mother. As she, however, is very forgetful, he gave her a chart and suggested that she set down the hours when the medicine should be given, checking off each dose as taken. Upon returning from his evening calls, however, he found the chart blank. "Good gracious, Mary!" he exclaimed. "Surely you haven't failed to give Tom his medicine?"

"Oh, no. I did not miss a single time," his wife assured him. "How in the world did you remember it without the chart?" he asked. She smiled.

"That was easy. I just told Tom this morning at what hours he was to have it, and half an hour before each time he would begin hallooing that he wouldn't take it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Itch! Itch! Itch!—Scratch! Scratch! Scratch! The more you scratch the worse the itch. Try Doan's Ointment. It cures piles, eczema, any skin itching. All druggists sell it.

What He Would Keep.

When the late Francois Coppee was elected to the academy, he told his friend, Theodore de Banville, that he wished he were in two. Banville declined to cavass.

"Suppose," Banville nomination were brought to you one fine morning on a silver salver."

"I don't know what I should do with such a nomination," said Banville, "but I should certainly keep the salver."

Excellent Health Advice.

Mrs. M. M. Davison, of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, biliousness, as a purifier of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of."

Sold under guarantee at Sivers Drug Store, 50c.

Why, of Course!

The editor of an agricultural paper was grumbling about a puzzling question that by requesting a mole to death between the hands and touching the affected parts with the blood that oozes from the mouth of the dying animal would disappear and well reappear. The culprits are convinced that moles, worms and other subterranean dwellers have no feelings, and therefore it is not cruelty to put them to death in this way.

"Don't you see, boss," he said, "but you don't get tell him 'jes' do same's short cows?"—Judge.

Does your back ache? Do you have sharp pains in the side and the small of the back? This is due, usually, to kidney trouble. Take Doan's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They will promptly relieve weak back, backache, rheumatic pains and kidney and bladder troubles. Sold and recommended by all Druggists.

A Wart Superstition.

Boys in the west of England believe that by squeezing a mole to death between the hands and touching the affected parts with the blood that oozes from the mouth of the dying animal warts will disappear and well reappear. The culprits are convinced that moles, worms and other subterranean dwellers have no feelings, and therefore it is not cruelty to put them to death in this way.

A lazy liver leads to chronic dyspepsia and constipation—weakens the whole system. Doan's Regulate (25 cents a box) correct the liver, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

We have passed the fifth milestone in our existence. During that time we have grown from a small beginning to a large and prosperous business. We have endeavored to keep abreast of the times, providing for our depositors every safe-guard known to their protection and security. Our funds are guarded by a modern burglary and fire-proof safe, and insurance is carried to cover losses by either burglary or robbery. We pay 4 per cent. interest on time deposits, which is more than any other bank in Breckinridge county pays.

We believe in paying our patrons all we can for the use of their money. The late disastrous bank failures have demonstrated that it is not the oldest and largest bank that is the safest. We take this opportunity to thank our customers whose patronage has helped to make this the largest and best statement in our five years of business.

Respectfully,
JNO. S. ADAIR, Cashier.
